

Fetch().

Data will be undefined – values will be fulfilled by the `Onfulfilled[]` and `OnRejection[]`

Where firstly the `fetch()` will access the network request, then provide values to the `Onfulfilled[]` and `OnRejection[]` on the basis of response. And then these values will be provided to the data. Now, after this process, it will be the data's responsibility to fulfil the response. Means data is not directly accessible.